ADVANTAGES

OF

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION

Over the Use of Yeast.

Yeast raises the flour by fermentation whereby the nutritious elements of the flour are, in part, or wholly lost, and the product is a fruitful source of dyspepsia, especially if eaten while fresh

Among the advantages resulting from the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation are the following:

The saving of the nutritious constituents of the flour.

The restoration of the phosphates removed by bolting

The saving of time; the phosphatic bread being prepared in a few minutes while ordinary fermented bread involves preparation over night

The bread retains its moisture much longer than fermented bread

The bread biscuit, gems, etc, made from it may be eaten warm with impunity

It requires little or no shortening

The results are uniformly excellent

NEWS FROM EASTERN MAINE.

Dover Letter

[Regular Correspondence of Whig and Courier]

The town clock matter was quietly settled by some of the citizens arranging for winding and now the inhabitants have [illegible] excuse for being late to dinner

[illegible] little son of W W Dow only three and one half years old met with quite a serious accident, Monday forenoon while out on the crust by sliding into a barbed wire fence His face was badly cut by the barbs so much that the doctor was obliged to take seven stitches in the [illegible] wounds to close them The little fellow is getting along very well

Mr William Harrigan and family have arrived here from Minneapolis, and propose to make this their home in future

Mr C F B Libby has resigned his position as Principal of Foxcroft Academy to accept a position as traveler for a Boston publishing house on a large salary He first would not wish to let him complete the term of school, so he got his brother to finish it and also to take charge of the Academy during the coming year The school has prospered finely under Mr Libby's care and he was sorry to leave it but the offer from the Boston house was too good to let pass

Mr L A Goodwin Superintendent of the Water Company, has taken the blacksmith shop, lately occupied by Mr L W Smith, for the company's business He employs Willis G Plummer in the shop and also Mr Smith The Water Company has quite a number of orders for water to fill when the frost is out

J S Wiley, Esq, has sold his residence to Mrs Annette Hopkins for $1,750 Mr Wiley will continue to occupy rooms in the house for the present

Mr John Bailey is one of our smart old men and, although ninety two years old, recently sawed about one third of a cord of wood in a day The Observer publishes a list of eighteen persons in Dover, ranging from eighty-one to ninety two years of age—one-half of the number being over eighty-five

The Brown Manufacturing Company pay their help weekly now instead of every two weeks as they have been doing This change is a benefit to the boarding houses and merchants, as they will get their pay oftener

The measles are still quite common in this vicinity, new cases coming down frequently It had been generally supposed that the disease could not be managed properly without a little gin, but that idea has been proved fallacious this spring, as, not being able to get the gin, they got well without it

Work has not yet been commenced on the railroad from Dexter, but we are living in hopes as the members of the committee seem hopeful.

Miss Annie O Blethen has returned from a visit to Boston.

Mr Gid Everett has been spending a few days at home

Millard Wells is going to Colorado for the benefit of his health

Mr P D Parsons has sold the Philemon Parsons' farm, on the Guilford road, in Foxcroft to Wm P Oakes, of Sangerville

Kingman Letter.

[Regular Correspondence Whig and Courier]

A large deer was seen in the village last Wednesday The lumbermen say they are getting quite plentiful in the forests of this vicinity, thanks to our stringent game laws and the efficient officers who see that they are properly enforced If the slaughter of these noble animals was allowed to continue with the same vigor in which it was pursued a few years ago in ten years or less they would become extinct

Mr Henry King got his thumb caught in the machinery of the birch mill, last Thursday, mangling it so badly that it had to be amputated The wound is rapidly healing and no doubt will soon be well He escaped narrowly escaped losing his whole hand

Mrs Rhodes of [illegible] [illegible] of this town [illegible] [illegible] to make [illegible]

A B Freeze will soon open photograph rooms in town He will occupy the rooms lately kept by M S Baker, the latter having decided to remove to rooms over A J Sampson's barber shop

The shop formerly occupied by the late Isaac Haynes, jeweler, is having a new front made with plate-glass, and will be occupied by V. De Witt Carleton, our popular jeweler.

An English family had a custom of feeding wild birds regularly after breakfast Opening the dining room window, they ring a bell, and immediately all kinds of birds and sometimes even squirrels come to the feeding place A curious result of the custom is that numerous applicants are seen each morning waiting the sound of the bell, like so many patients at a hospital.

Short Cuts

Rains have been abundant and a good harvest is assured in California

China now furnishes only one-third of the tea consumed in England [illegible] [illegible] furnishes the rest

The barque Reindeer which arrived at New York on Monday, encountered a waterspout off Bermuda which in two minutes stripped her of a mast and rigging and came near destroying her completely

A Kimball (Dak) Justice of the peace has made the announcement that during leap year he will charge no fee for marrying couples who will admit that the marriage was brought about by the lady exerting her leap year prerogative

Ex Attorney General Brewster [illegible] [illegible] estate valued at $100 000, to be held in trust for his son until he reaches the age of thirty If [illegible] son dies without issue before reaching that age the property goes to the Sisters of St Francis, of Philadelphia

The young son of Rev P [illegible] Hall [illegible] studying art in Paris under Bouguereau and other Frenchmen, has [illegible] lately completed figure [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] This is next to the highest [illegible] [illegible] the world

Old Mr Bently (to his son home on a visit from college)—I [illegible] see by the [illegible] paper George that you are one of the leaders in the German George—Well—er—yes father Old Mr B (after [illegible])—Well I suppose you ought to buy some money to buy some German [illegible] to read George (earnestly — Yes father I think I ought

Last December the French Government came into a large fortune which was left it by an old man named Meyer, who [illegible] in his will that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] In taking an inventory of his effects [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] thrown aside [illegible] broken [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] bundle of papers [illegible] [illegible] and on examination they were found to be securities worth $90 000

The two cleverest women [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in Europe are said to be the Empress Victoria of Germany and [illegible] Queen of Italy The Empress Victoria is a brilliant conversationalist, but is not as witty as Queen Margherita The former however, is possessed of a knowledge of scientific subjects most remarkable for women She is able to converse [illegible] [illegible] with such men as Virchow and Von Helmholtz [illegible] comprehensive [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] among his physicians

While Emperor Frederick, then [illegible] Crown Prince, was at San Remo [illegible] was [illegible] amused at the efforts of journalists to obtain news regarding his condition On the first day on which his larynx was examined, after the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] he turned to Sir Morell Mackenzie and said good naturedly Sir Morell, will you please close the blinds of the window which faces the Hotel de la Mediterranee or I am sure that the young lady journalist will see down my throat and send off an account of it before the examination is over

Recently a man met [illegible] death [illegible] while riding on top of a Liverpool tram way car There was nothing about his person to lead to his identification but he had with him two carrier pigeons one of which was [illegible] to notify his family of his demise The police attached to the bird a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to the detective office at [illegible] and it was set at liberty [illegible] [illegible] man arrived at the [illegible] office and stated that the deceased was his father who had gone out for exercise and to [illegible] the pigeons

President McCosh is exceedingly regular and methodical in his affairs especially in those which pertain to his literary and scholarly life I always work [illegible] four a day said he to a friend and that is the work of an average man In vacations I am nearly wholly idle but generally do from two to five hours of solid work in writing or thinking When engaged in writing a book I walk five miles each day thinking much of course, while walking The venerable philosopher is at present deeply interested in the building of a cosy little cottage on the top of Prince ton Hill which will be the home of himself and his wife when he has laid aside the active duties of the Princeton presidency

A Rockland restaurant keeper played a joke the other night Nothing that two of his customers were bowling away their suppers in the shortest possible time from evident over anxiety lest they might lose the Boston boat which was waiting at the wharf, he suddenly thought what a funny thing it would be to frighten them a little Accordingly he went into his back shop and gave a perfect imitation of the Katahdin's whistle The men heard it and tried not upon the order of their going The perpetrator of the joke could hardly stand for laughing until he happened to think that he had frightened the men away before they had paid for their suppers

A United States navy officer has invented a life-saving device for the dreaded emergency of "man overboard" which promises to be of value A raft buoy of sufficient size to support a man is attached to the vessel by a long and strong but light wire rope The buoy is stocked with a small supply of provisions and is furnished with a potassium compound which upon contact with the water ignites and burns brilliantly for twenty minutes If the drowning man, aided by the flame succeeds in reaching the raft he can be drawn to the vessel without the necessity of lowering boats Should the rope break and his own vessel lose track of him, he has, with the provisions, a chance of sustaining life until picked up by others

Senator Cullom has a four year-old grand-daughter, who is sometimes terrible but always charming For example, the other day some political callers came in at dinner time The ladies of the household waited patiently for a time for them to go and let the Senator come to the dining-room But when their patience gave out they sent the little one in as an ambassador She reached the door and saw a room full of men. She hesitated a few moments until there was a slight break in the conversation and then in an abashed but also a reproving tone said Grampa, tea is getting cold The Senator looked around a good deal amused, and then to let himself and his friends down easy, replied pleasantly "Lottie, I guess you're getting hungry?" "Yes," said the little one quite positively, "I am, and mamma is getting hungry, too The political conference broke up right off

"I know 'tis a sin to
But I'm bent on the notion,
I'll throw myself into
The deep, briny ocean," is the mental exclamation of many a sufferer from headache, indigestion, constipation, torpid liver, etc. The use of Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, however, would transform these unfortunates, and cause them to sing—

But my spirit shall wander
Through gay coral bowers,
And frisk with the mermaids,
It shall, by the powers!

The peculiar purifying and building up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla make it the very best medicine to take at this season.

Be ye king, or be ye peasant,
If you have a breath unpleasant,
Teeth discolored, gums that tease ye,
SOZODONT'S the thing to please ye,
Use it every night and morning,
Teeth preserving and adorning.

JOHNSON'S UNIVERSAL CYCLOPÆDIA.

(REVISED EDITION—EIGHT ROYAL OCTAVO VOLUMES.)

It is vastly more and better than you claim—HON CARROLL D WRIGHT

1 It is the only New Cyclopædia on the market

2 It is the only cyclopædia that has been made by a thoroughly organized body of scholars signing their own contributions

3 It is the only cyclopædia ever made from a thoroughly American standpoint

4 It excels [illegible] [illegible] in its scope of subjects treated

[illegible] It excels [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the compactness of its [illegible]

[illegible] Its authority is the highest in scholarship

7 Its subjects [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] immediately [illegible] [illegible] any other cyclopædia

8 [illegible] scholars [illegible] that it has no equal [illegible] superior [illegible]

9 It is rapidly supplanting other cyclopædias

10 [illegible] [illegible] is about one half that of any other standard cyclopædia

11 It is the most thoroughly entertaining [illegible] [illegible] and delightful reading which the present century has produced

What we ask—We ask a fair [illegible] to [illegible] the above propositions

IS HIGHLY COMMENDED BY ALL THE LEADING SCHOLARS

We have testimonials from the highest authorities in the world, including fifteen [illegible] [illegible] of learning of Harvard Yale Brown Cornell, and [illegible] [illegible] Dartmouth Williams Amherst Hamilton and Richmond Colleges, etc.

Following are brief extracts from a few well known men

[illegible] Rev [illegible] Hill [illegible] Ex President of Harvard University

I cheerfully and strongly recommend Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia as a most [illegible] [illegible] trustworthy work of reference [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the latest discoveries but is [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for general use [illegible] [illegible] which I am acquainted [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] contains the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] may be trusted to give nothing but the best established [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] views of [illegible]

I find that Johnson's Cyclopædia is very valuable [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] recommend it [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] attention to the above recommendation of Dr Hill His authority [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] should recommend it [illegible] the world on the ground of his [illegible] REV HENRY BLANCHARD

[illegible] Bishop [illegible] D the Historian New York

I regard [illegible] Johnson's Cyclopædia [illegible] [illegible] as a wise [illegible] [illegible] or for persons in any pursuit, [illegible] [illegible] library of [illegible] volumes [illegible] [illegible] exchanged my Appleton's [illegible] edition for Johnson's Cyclopædia

From W P Whitehouse Judge of Supreme Court August Maine

Since exchanging Appleton's Cyclopædia for Johnson's I have examined the latter more fully and carefully and find my first impressions of its superiority to Appleton's strengthened by many comparisons It is justly entitled a Universal Cyclopædia It is a library for the lawyer physician [illegible] and business man The vast number of diverse subjects the great condensation, accuracy and clearness of statement, are marvelous It is [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to find all important [illegible] professional and scientific topics [illegible] authority by having [illegible] well known and reliable authors [illegible] short it is brief comprehensive and thorough and I am [illegible] [illegible] with my exchange of Appleton's and Annuals for Johnson's

From Albro [illegible] Chase Principal of High School Portland Me

To whom it may concern I have carefully examined Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia and have no hesitancy in recommending it to any person desirous of such a work as treats of all subjects in a concise and careful manner It is abreast of the times in its treatment of subjects, so arranged as to be readily used, more complete [illegible] [illegible] other work of its kind I commend it to those who wish the best cyclopædia for every-day use

From George C Chase Bates College Me

Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia Revised Edition is a valuable work of reference [illegible] For my own use I should prefer it to any other cyclopædia

From [illegible] H Manley, Augusta, Me Oct [illegible], 1887

I have examined Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia, with some care making comparisons with Appleton's and I regard it infinitely preferable The whole plan of the Cyclopædia is on a broader and better basis and it is much more comprehensive and accurate

From Geo T Little, Librarian of Bowdoin College, Me September 24 1887

It is a pleasure in stating that I have examined Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia and have compared it with Appleton's and the Britannica I consider it a very superior work and in many respects preferable to those above mentioned, especially for general every day use

W F Johnson, Esq —Dear Sir I exchanged my Appleton's Cyclopædia revised edition for Johnson's, and am much pleased with the change, I find Johnson's contains many subjects which are not treated in the other at all I cheerfully recommend Johnson's to any who desire the best Cyclopædia

Respectfully yours

ROCHESTER N Y, Nov 16, '87

I have examined with care all the articles in Johnson's Cyclopædia discussing important topics The work seems to me specially valuable and trustworthy for the following reasons

1st—The articles treating science history and literature have all been recently written and represent the present state of investigation bearing upon the subject discussed

2d—All articles upon subjects requiring special learning and ability for adequate treatment are signed by the writers, who are thus made personally responsible for the correctness of the facts given and the soundness of the conclusions reached. In consequence each article has the same authority as a distinct treatise published in book form by the author.

3d—The writers taken as a whole are men of such learning and ability that they fairly represent the scientific knowledge and scholarship of our times

4th—The range of topics is wider than is given in any similar work accessible to the English reading public.

In making these statements I wish, of course, to be understood as excluding any reference to the very few articles which I have myself written or revised

We are constantly taking the latest editions of Appleton's American Cyclopædia and the 9th or latest edition of the Encyclopædia Britannica in exchange for Johnson's

To anyone wishing an Encyclopædia, we will furnish Johnson's Cyclopædia and the revised edition of "Appleton's American Cyclopædia" for the subscription price of the latter, or we will furnish Johnson's Cyclopædia and the "Encyclopædia Britannica" for the subscription price of the Britannica or we will furnish Johnson's Cyclopædia for about half the price of either of the other two

Johnson's Cyclopædia is sold only by subscription at one price

To all of our subscribers we warrant the price of Johnson's Cyclopædia and guarantee that the latest edition cannot be obtained for less than the regular subscription price

[illegible] it is [illegible] [illegible] it may save you from fifty ($50) to one hundred and twenty five dollars ($125) if you purchase a Cyclopædia [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] obliging you to give intelligent advice to your friends who come to you for advice as to which Cyclopædia is the best one to buy

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS —We take this opportunity to notify our patrons that Biennial Supplements to Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia will be issued as usual every two years at a cost of about one dollar each to subscribers whose names and addresses [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] but only [illegible] [illegible] subscribers can obtain these improvements [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

SATURDAY, APRIL 14, 1888.

A Shameful Exhibition.

For the past nine days the people have witnessed the absolute cessation of all business in the House by reason of the filibustering tactics of a handful of Rebel Brigadiers to prevent the passage of the bill to refund the direct tax to the loyal States. These gentlemen are also the prime movers in the raid upon the protective system and the tactics resorted to in the House are in keeping with the unprecedented course adopted by the free trade members of the Ways and Means Committee. It was the old rule or ruin policy so characteristic of the Southern Bourbons and shows to the country the same intolerant spirit that is always ready to break out on the slightest provocation. A clear majority of the House favored this bill, the [justice] of which cannot be questioned, but the Northern Democrats have been so accustomed to follow in the lead of the Southern Bourbons that it is not surprising to find them abandoning their position to [enable] the obstructionists to temporarily [carry] their point. The dead-lock was broken Thursday in obedience to the action of the Democratic caucus and the bill goes over until December. From the first until the last of the dead lock the filibusters have been unable to present even the shadow of a plausible pretext to justify their course. They tried first one excuse and then another until as a last resort came the absurd charge that the bill was a "steal" being pushed by ... agents who would reap a rich harvest from the adoption of the measure. This cry was caught up by the free trade organs to convince their readers that the Rebel Brigadiers, who a few years ago were trying to throttle the government, were now only actuated by a desire to protect the treasury, but the Washington despatch quoted elsewhere, ... the ... of the Commercial, gives a complete exposure of that stupid lie. There is no justification for the shameful waste of time in the House, and the revolutionary methods adopted only serve to show the extent to which the free trade conspirators are willing to go to accomplish their end, and will open the eyes of the people to the danger that menaces the country should the day ever come when these reckless conspirators gain absolute control of the Government.

The Tariff and Wages

The Commercial every now and then takes occasion to reproduce the standard [talk] of the free trader, that the law of supply and demand regulates wages, which, it declares, are not increased by this country by our system of protection ... quoting the words of "Hon." ... Congressman Nelson, of Minnesota, ... who came to this country, as thousands have done, to improve his condition. Mr Nelson being a native of Norway, a country that is now tending toward protection after years of unprofitable experience with free trade which Mr. Nelson to-day advocates for this country ... the matter of wages ... however, the [illegible] regulates the law of supply and demand. Remove the tariff and subject this country to the free importation of the product of foreign pauper labor and then ... would be ... in industries suffer, business is curtailed, the demand for labor is diminished ... by the statement of Mr. Nelson himself, who says the products ... industries ... by the ease and facility with which they can procure labor ... must necessarily go down to the foreign standard. It is a perfectly plain proposition and that is understood by the working men themselves was clearly shown by the remarks of Mr. A. A. Carlton, a member of the executive Committee of the Knights of Labor, at a recent meeting in this city, when he said: "Give the laborer good wages and he will demand better living, better clothing, better surroundings and better advantages. With increased ability for increased demand upon the different classes of manufactures and products, and with the increased demand the problem of disposing of our products will be solved at home without the necessity of finding a foreign market." The Commercial will find that its doctrine does not have the approval of the men who earn the wages.

A Bourbon Victory.

The Boston Post in speaking of the postponement of the direct tax bill until December says: "The result is a substantial victory for the Democratic party over the elements of opposition." As the ... the party has a clear majority in the House and could have killed or passed the bill at any moment, instead of frittering away nine days in filibustering, the victory referred to is rather ambiguous. For some time past the free trade organs have been denouncing the iniquity of this bill, but the fact remains that it was only opposed by a small minority of the Democratic party in the House. This minority was composed of Southern members who fought the bill because it contemplates reimbursing the States that contributed funds toward the suppression of the rebellion, an act they never can forgive, and the fact that with the aid of the President they finally succeeded in securing the cooperation of the majority of the party only shows what has long been apparent, save to those who have persistently kept their eyes shut, that the Confederacy is in the saddle again. The victory was a Bourbon victory over the other wing of the party, and the Post and organs of its ilk are welcome to whatever satisfaction they can obtain from the interesting spectacle.

The Direct Tax Bill.

STUPID FALSEHOODS ABOUT STATE AGENTS EXPOSED.

(Wash Cor N Y Tribune.)

Nothing indicates more clearly the sorry plight to which the Southern Brigadiers, in their efforts to subdue the majority, have been reduced, than the stupid lies told in free trade organs regarding the doings of an alleged "lobby" in connection with passages of the Direct Tax bill. For the last few days' dispatches to the New York Herald by a particularly clever chap, who could probably tell a camel from a clothes line at a single glance, if he were pushed very hard, have rung with harrowing accounts of the insidious tactics of this lobby, in whose interest, it is asserted by inference, sixty-six Senators and nearly three times that number of corrupt Representatives are working night and day to the exclusion of all other business. The Times this morning re-echoes the same tale, informing its readers, among other things, what rewards the different State agents—another name for lobbyists—would reap in case the bill became law.

Thus it shows that the agent of the State of New York would secure $353,333, he having been promised, so the Times says, twenty-five per cent. of the amount collected.

This will be news to General Farnsworth, the State agent, and must be particularly gratifying to the President, whose intimate friend the General is and has been for a number of years; in fact, he is commonly supposed to be a member of the "Kitchen Cabinet," of which "Bef" Scott is the chief. The President cannot fail to feel proud of the friendship of a man who can "scoop in" fat fees for lobbying in this manner—over half a million at a time.

The public is also informed by the same authority that the State of Illinois has agreed to pay its agents 15 per cent. or $285,037, of the amount appropriated under the bill. Who that lucky man is, is not stated. The astute correspondent seems to have forgotten, if ever he knew, that the Legislature of Illinois refused not long ago to sanction the appointment of an agent in Washington. But that does not matter as long as the aforesaid correspondent continues to heat his imagination with the thought that the direct tax bill is a cleverly devised scheme to defeat the revision of the tariff.

Ohio's State agent was put down by the Times as looking for $301,772, only a trifle less than lucky General Farnsworth hopes to get. This amount is 25 per cent of the sum due to Ohio. Unfortunately, a despatch received by Judge E. B. Taylor this afternoon, and which he sought to read on the floor of the House, dispels this nice piece of fiction. The despatch reads:

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 11.

To Hon. E. B. Taylor, Washington.

To-day's Enquirer says that the New York Herald has a publication to the effect that Ohio is to pay a commission of ten per cent of the amount of direct tax refunded to our State agent. A bill has passed the Ohio House, and is now pending in the Senate, which body will no doubt pass it within a few days, authorizing the payment of not exceeding one and one-half per cent of whatever amount may be refunded, to cover all costs, commissions, expenses, etc. No other compensation is provided for or can be allowed.

I have also seen it stated in the papers that Ohio's financial condition is such as to make it necessary for us to have this direct tax refunded to enable us to meet our obligations, and maintain our credit. This is unqualifiedly false. Our revenues are ample to meet every engagement. We have no need whatever in that respect for the direct tax money. We want it simply because the General Government owes it to us, and, considering the purpose for which it was contributed, should repay it.

J. B. FORAKER,
Governor.

The Herald asserted yesterday that the agent of the State of Michigan would collect 11 per cent. of the amount due to his State, or $170,600. Here is a despatch which Congressman Allen, of Michigan, attempted to read in the House, when one of the filibusters, who choke off all discussion, objected:

Hon. E. P. Allen

Every dollar of the direct tax refunded to Michigan will be placed in the State Treasury. No commissions will be paid.

C. G. LUCE,
Governor of Michigan.

That Michigan has a State Agent was news to Senator Palmer. He had never heard of his existence before, neither had Senator Stockbridge, or indeed any other member of the Michigan delegation. The same might be said of another State agent existing in the imagination only of the Herald correspondent, the State Agent of Maine, who was to get $55,125. Senator Frye had never heard of any such person before. The Massachusetts State Agent was to receive 25 per cent on $700,854 or $175,000. Governor Long to-day said that Massachusetts never had an agent for the collection of this debt in Washington. Similar statements were made in regard to a number of States which were said to have employed agents for this purpose, by persons competent to speak on the subject.

Of course there are States which have agents in Washington—New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia, for instance—but they are generally paid a salary, and rarely, if ever, a commission. Upon whose authority these agents were to collect these royal commissions has not been stated. Nothing less, certainly, than an act of the State Legislature could legalize such contracts, and, except in the case of South Carolina, no such contract is known to have passed any Legislature.

Another statement made by the organs of the filibusters denounces the majority of the Judiciary Committee as practically working in the interest of the "lobby" in having struck out of the bill as it passed the Senate the provision which forbade the payment of any money appropriated under the bill to agents and middlemen. As a matter of fact, the provision has not been struck out at all. It still remains there subject to the vote of the House, though the committee recommended its elimination for reasons which it plainly set forth in its report. It said:

"In regard to the second proposed amendment, it has been ascertained that at least one State has employed agents to look after the interests of the citizens of the State alleged to have been injuriously affected by the forced collection of the tax, and has stipulated payment for their services out of the fund arising from any repayment. The committee do not think that Congress should interfere in the matter and compel the State to repudiate its contract or to pay for such services out of its general fund, and for that reason proposes to strike out the proviso creating the restriction."

In other words, the committee did not wish to hamper or abuse the rights of any States. In recommending therefore the striking out of this proviso inserted by the Senate, the committee closely followed the doctrine of State's rights, and for Southern Brigadiers to denounce the committee's action on this score at this late hour seems highly ludicrous.

PIX LIQUIDA COMPOUND,
—OR—
PACKARD'S
Tar, Bloodroot, and Wild Cherry
COUGH CURE.
The most popular Cough Remedies of the day are those which contain the drugs mentioned above, and this is so in spite of the unpleasant taste which the Tar gives to it. Knowing this, we have endeavored to produce something in the form of a Syrup that should hold in solution the active ingredients of these valuable curatives, and at the same time present an attractive appearance and agreeable taste. How perfectly we have succeeded, the medicine itself will attest. We defy the efforts of every manufacturer in the whole world to produce results superior to what we show you in this elegant compound of TAR, BLOODROOT AND WILD CHERRY.
We Challenge Every Cough Cure in the Market
to Effect Greater Cures than this Has Done.
Especially in Chronic Bronchitis and Irritated throats, caused by poisonous secretions from Catarrhal troubles. We realize the fact that no one remedy will meet the demands of all cases. Coughs arise from many causes, and require a proper diagnosis and the application of appropriate remedies that the best results may follow treatment, but there are very many people who suffer from Coughs that are in no doubt as to their origin, and may be safely treated by the sufferers themselves when they resort only to safe remedies, the composition of which are KNOWN, and KNOWN to be HARMLESS, as well as POTENT. There is no secret about this remedy, except the process of making. It contains just what we tell you, and nothing more. It is perfectly healthy to use, (or in other words, it produces no results that are not good.) All Cough remedies containing opiates derange the stomach. This Cough Syrup contains nothing but drugs which have a tendency to aid digestion.
Use it and be cured. Take it and you will be thankful for the pleasant results.

... KILLING HIS FATHER.

Trial of Charles L. Beal.

Further Testimony for the Government.

AUGUSTA, April 13. At 9.25 the Beal trial was re-opened.

John C Hall was the first witness. He testified to being in the store and hearing the prisoner and his father dispute one day. The old man Beal was calm but Charles was boisterous. He sat up with the corpse the second night and said that the man who poisoned the whiskey would be found out. Charles asked who ... thought so. They then told him. ... Furber said Charles said he knew the ... was considerable talk by a pack of fools around there. If George hadn't got along they would have thought the old man died of tremens.

E. I. Hodgdon, the present administrator of the estate, was then called. He spoke of disputes between the father and the prisoner. He was in the store when George was taken sick, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the day his father died. George's head twitched from side to side and he appeared to be ... Messrs. Dixon and Wood carried George to the sleigh.

He Said That he Saw

... he had been able to learn the ... of Mr. Beal's estate was about $5,000. He had known old Beal ... times.

Mr. George Sanborn was the next witness. He sat up with the body and talked about who poisoned the whiskey. Charles said it was nobody's business outside of the family. He had seen Mr. Beal intoxicated. Had worked in the factory. Did not remember seeing Charles push ... his father.

Dr. Dixon was then called. Had been acquainted with the elder Beal for years. Worked for him winters. Saw ... George worked in the store and Charles drove the team. Helped carry George to the sleigh when he was taken sick in the store.

Witness went Down

with Mr. Lewis into the cellar and afterward went and got the bottle. There ... was shown to witness. ... Charles had not worked for his father for about two weeks before his father's death. Observed that Charles did not go down stairs so often after his discharge. Saw him go down twice that week ... his father died. Heard Charles call his father an old fool. Thought he ... boys say that their father was drinking too much.

Adjourned to afternoon.

Afternoon Session.

This afternoon Sheriff G. S. Stevenson testified that he took a barrel of whiskey from the cellar of Mr. Beal's house and delivered it to Sheriff Hill.

Sheriff Hill corroborated the above and further testified that he heard the prisoner state that he had been away after hoop poles, came back and went into the cellar and took a bottle of whiskey from the barrel, went to Brown's stable and drank some. It tasted bitter and was ... He filled up the bottle ... and threw the bottle down. Witness found an empty bottle with sediment in the bottom of ... cellar.

Dr. Ivory P. Faas testified to attending Mr. Beal's sick daughter. Mr. Beal was brought home ... and saw that he was suffering from poison. Gave antidotes, but it was ...

Too Late to Save his Life

George Beal was brought in sick the same ... his father. Gave him antidotes. Witness described the spasms and convulsions of both patients, and also stated that Charles Beal said that he thought George was going to let whiskey alone since he got some that tasted bitter, and thought his father had been doctoring it to keep them away from it.

Prof. F. C. Robinson testified that the sediment in the whiskey was strychnine, also that strychnine was found in Mr. Beal's stomach.

George W. Beal, brother of the prisoner, said that the barrel of whiskey had been in the cellar five weeks and only four bottles had been taken out. He then afternoon, stating that he drank from the same bottle as his father. He stated that Charles was anxious to know whether he (George) had been drinking the whiskey, but in such a way as to make him (George) think that he was surprised at his father's illness. Witness' story throughout was a substantial repetition of his story before the coroner's jury. He was unwilling in any way to criminate his brother. The cross-examination was not reached.

MAINE METHODISTS.

Third Day of the Conference.

PORTLAND, April 13. The Methodist Conference continued this morning. The conference prayer meeting, at 8 o'clock, was led by Rev. J. M. Frost. At 9 o'clock the reports of the standing committees were called for. The Committee on Methodist Literature reported that the past year had been one of great prosperity. The Methodist Review, with a circulation of 4,000, sends 44 copies into this conference. The New York Christian Advocate sends 250 copies to Maine. Zion's Herald sends 1,050 to this conference.

Roscoe Sanderson was recommended as a visitor to the Wesleyan Association. The Board of Church Extension emphasized the importance of the work of the committee.

The report of the Domestic Missionary Society caused a discussion, some of the members not agreeing with the recommendations, and the report was recommitted.

Rev. Mr. Haven, of the New England Educational Society, presented the claims of that organization.

Rev. Mr. Randall presented a resolution expressing the opinion that women were eligible as lay delegates to the general conference. This was adopted by a rising vote.

The stewards next reported, and after discussion their report was adopted.

A resolution condemning the exchange of pulpits with preachers of another denomination was adopted unanimously.

Ballots were taken for two delegates to the general conference resulting in the choice of Rev. C. Clark and Rev. E. T. Adams. Several ballots were taken for alternates and Revs. A. W. Pottle and R. Sanderson were elected. A resolution was passed protesting against the exchange of pulpits with other clergymen. ...

MR. CONKLING WORSE.

His Symptoms Yesterday Very Unfavorable.

Believed that He Cannot Hold Out Much Longer.

NEW YORK April 13 At 5 P M Dr Barker issued the following bulletin 'Mr Conkling is not quite so well At 2 P M. he had a nervous twitching of the muscles He objects to taking milk or nourishment No official observations were taken as it was not thought desirable to disturb the patient, who was sleeping Dr Barker said he did not like the symptoms Mr Conkling is not sleeping as well as last night or this morning Dr Anderson came at 6 o clock and said Mr Conkling had lost some ground this afternoon At 6 10 P M Henry Melville, Mr Conkling's law partner, said there was no change but the family were very anxious The physicians had predicted that Mr Conkling would be better inside of three days but the prediction has not been fulfilled In the Hoffman House it is believed that Mr Conkling is very sick The twitching of the muscles spoken of is believed to indicate an accumulation of more pus and is regarded as a bad sign It is generally believed that the patient cannot hold out much longer

A Little More Favorable

Dr Barker and Dr Sands called at 8 10 P M When Dr Sands came out at 8 30 he was asked the condition of Mr Conkling and replied that there was no change and referred the reporter to Dr Barker Dr Barker subsequently said This afternoon I feared a failure of the nerve centers Mr Conkling was asleep at 5 P M but not a normal healthy sleep he was only dozing and talked and muttered to himself He refused to take nourishment and only received two ounces of milk during the day Since 5 30 P M there has been a change for the better He has given up twitching now and takes milk The wound was not dressed to-day His temperature is 101 1-5 or slight increase and pulse 92 which is very good almost normal I will be satisfied if there is no change for the worse before I call again at 11 P M If I then find him the same I will go home and take a good night's rest

Still No Particular Change

Dr Barker called shortly after 11 and stayed half an hour The patient shook hands with the doctor and seemed comfortable He fell asleep before the doctor left He is still taking nourishment with out difficulty consisting of milk and a little whiskey His temperature has risen slightly since the doctor's previous visit, but otherwise he is unchanged

AFTER THE GAME KILLERS

A Successful Raid by Game Warden McLain and French

Alex McLain, of Mattawamkeag was in the city yesterday on his return from his raid upon the illegal hunters of game in the upper part of Penobscot County mention of which was made in Thursday's WHIG and furnished WHIG a reporter with an interesting account of his trip What was most eminently successful and which proved that the reports published in the WHIG of the wholesale destruction of moose, caribou and deer in that region were not exaggerated Mr McLain took with him Game Warden French of Calais and together they visited Patten [illegible] Chamberlain and Webster [illegible] trout brook and other points

As a result of their investigations they made the handsome capture of twelve moose hides two caribou hides, four deer hides and two carcasses of moose, and obtained evidence sufficient to obtain warrants for the arrest of ten or twelve men for illegally killing or having in possession moose deer and caribou in close time and also for having in possession more than the one moose, two caribou or three deer to which each person is entitled by law, and proceedings will at once be instituted against the guilty parties Warden McLain is also on the track of other parties, believed to be equally guilty, and does not propose to let up until he has broken up the gang who are engaged in the nefarious work of despoiling our forests of the noble game with which, through our excellent game laws, they have become restocked after having been almost depopulated Mr McLain desires to express, through the WHIG, his thanks to the citizens of Patten who have so willingly and cordially rendered him assistance in his work There are other localities, as in Aroostook and Washington counties, where the same base work has been carried on, and these, too, will receive the attention of the game wardens Our game commissioners and wardens are doing all in their power, with the means at their command, to break up this illegal and destructive hunting, and will receive, as they deserve, the thanks and co-operation of all good citizens and lovers of our noble game

This is the biggest strike ever made for the game laws in Penobscot county, and and the results cannot fail to be most salutary, not only upon the men who are engaged in hunting but also upon lumbermen who encourage their misdoing by purchasing meat of them to be eaten in their camps

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Adjutant General has just shipped fifty Springfield rifles and equipments for the Frye Light Guards of Lewiston.

Another serious accident has happened in the Barker mill district, Auburn. Tuesday, Mrs. Charles Fields was terribly bitten by a dog owned by a Mr. Briggs, a neighbor to Mrs. Fields. It is reported that Mrs. Fields went out doors to drive away the dog, as it was carrying away the meat which had been left for the poultry and that as she approached the dog it pounced upon her, and seized her savagely by the arm just above the wrist, chewing it in a terrible manner. It was feared Wednesday morning that the injured arm would have to be amputated, so badly is it mutilated. The dog is a very large mastiff and it is said has been kept muzzled part of the time in the past, although not considered by any means dangerous. The dog has been killed by its owner.

Aroostook.

There is a little unpleasantness in one of the churches in Caribou, says the Lewiston Journal, and at present the Rev. Mr. Leberton holds the fort, notwithstanding he preached what was regarded as his farewell sermon a few weeks ago. He has the key to the church and will not preach himself nor will he let the laity hear another man unless he is such a man as he wants. Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Irvin was requested to occupy the pulpit, but the retiring clergyman refused to give up the key, so the people could not go into their church. It is probable that some compromise will be effected.

The contractor for Ricker Classical Institute has completed his work and is awaiting the acceptance of the building by the committee, Messrs. Rev. Dr. J. Ricker, of Augusta, Hon. E. F. Webb, of Waterville, Hon. Moses Giddings, of Bangor, Chas. P. Tenney and Albert A. Burleigh, Esqs., of Houlton. The committee are to meet at Houlton, April 24, and examine the work, with a view to its acceptance. The building is a fine one, massive in its proportions, and planned with a view to meet the wants of this and future generations, and appears to be very thoroughly constructed.

Cumberland.

This is the last term that Fred M. Fling will teach in the Biddeford High School. He intends to sail for Germany in August to pursue a course of study at one of the best institutions in that country. Mr. Fling is a Portland boy and a graduate of Bowdoin.

Jane Dorsey, of Portland, has left the residue of her estate, after paying certain legacies, amounting to about $700, to St. Joseph's Home, Deering, and Bridget M. E. Nutting has left the residue of her estate, amounting to about $800, to the same institution.

The committee appointed by Saccarappa to make a contract with the Portland Water Company to supply the town with water, met Hon. George P. Wescott at the selectmen's office, Monday. The amount offered by the town was refused. It is understood that the company will make another proposal to the town.

Harry H. Conant, charged with forging the name of W. A. Allen, of Sanford, his former employer, on four notes, amounting to the sum of $2,055, was brought before Recorder Dyer, in the Municipal Court, Portland, Wednesday, for trial. Hon. Wilbur F. Lunt appeared for Mr. Conant, and Assistant County Attorney Chase for the government. Recorder Dyer found the evidence sufficient, and bound Conant over to the April term of the Superior Court, in the sum of $100, Mr. Conant not making any defence or introducing any witnesses.

Hancock.

The body of Charles M. Trundy who was drowned in Cards Brook a few weeks ago, was found by Mr. William M. Howard, Saturday, in the cove near the brig Myronus.

Last Thursday, Mr. Bentley Grindle, of Brooksville, led his horse to water and, shortly after, was found lifeless, lying near the spring with his head and shoulders under water. It is supposed that he was kicked by the horse. Mr. Grindle served two years in the Second Maine Regiment, Company B, and was a member of the G. A. R.

Mrs. Abigail O. Richardson, of Orland, who was eighty-eight years of age last February, has, during the past winter, spun and knit ten pounds of rolls beside other work. Within two years she has pieced the outside of four quilts, three of them log cabin. The log cabin quilts each contain from six hundred and fifty to seven hundred pieces and the work is remarkably well done. She is the mother of seven children, four sons and three daughters. All of her sons were in the late Rebellion, two of them were in Andersonville prison and all returned home and are yet living. During berry time last summer the old lady walked four miles on to a blueberry ledge, picked ten quarts of berries and brought them home and she says "I mean to do it next summer if I am alive."

Kennebec.

The Kennebec river will be open to navigation within a day or two. The channel is now open nearly the entire distance between Augusta and Richmond.

A strike in the saw mill of Hewins & Lyons, at North Augusta, resulted in the mill being shut down, and all sawing will close for the present, until matters can be satisfactorily adjusted. The proprietors think the mills will be running again in a few weeks at the longest.

Col. Elias Milliken and Omar Clark, Esq., Wednesday, made a contract with the Kennebec Log-Driving Company to drive the winter's cut of logs by the thousand, taking the Moose River and Lake logs when turned over the dam at the outlet of the Lake, and the Dead River logs when turned into the main river at The Forks. This is a large job and involves the expenditure of a large sum of money with considerable risk attending it, but Messrs. Milliken and Clark know the ins and outs of the business as well as any other men on the Kennebec. The contract price is 7½ cents per thousand on the East River Branch and 29½ on the main river.

Piscataquis.

A mare belonging to Dr. Wm. Buck, of Foxcroft, dropped a fine Nelson Colt on Sunday night. This is the only one in the county.

Under the auspices of Mrs. Charles Davison, the Lakeside Helpers, of Greenville, gave a fair and literary entertainment, Friday evening. The latter was concluded with a dialogue in which the different heathen nations were represented, dressed in appropriate costumes. The whole affair passed off in a very agreeable manner. The net proceeds amounted to fifty dollars.

After several days of enforced idleness, during which there has been no small amount of humor expended, the town severely criticised and various newspapers made much ridiculous comment thereon, not to mention death notices, offers of sepulture, artistic mourning drapery, etc., says the Observer, some of the more enterprising of the citizens of Foxcroft have at last subscribed the necessary amount and the convenient time piece tells the hours.

Charles Warner, in Bailey's mill, Dover, while engaged in sawing out some dry maple for Mr. Fabian, the manufacturer of lumbermen's rules, last Thursday, incidentally ran the four fingers of his right hand upon the saw. The index finger was badly mangled near the first joint, and the other three were more or less badly scratched and sawed. It was lucky for him that the hand itself did not run on to the saw. It was thought at first that a portion would have to be amputated, but was not found necessary.

Sagadahoc.

A Knox & Lincoln brakeman had a narrow escape at Woolwich, last week, Friday. The train ran up from the ferry and while engaged in coupling the cars he was knocked against a post by the starting of the train. He fell under the car but the train stopped at once. He suffered concussion of the chest, and was badly bruised.

Somerset.

The village assessors, of Fairfield, have sold the Victor engine house and lot to Mr. Wm. Connor for five hundred dollars. The school committee have hired the building and will fit up the upper story for a school room. The lower floor can be hired if any one wants it.

The Fairfield Journal, this week, contains a long obituary of the late Hon. John Totman, who died at his home at Pishon's Ferry, last Friday noon. He was born in Abington, Mass., April 6, 1807, and was eighty-one years of age. His father, Thomas Vining Totman, moved his family from Massachusetts in 1810. They first settled in Winthrop, but in January, 1820, came to Fairfield. He was postmaster in 1844 and in 1853 elected State Senator.

A large nine hundred pound pulley on the main shaft of Weston & Brainerd's saw mill at Skowhegan, burst, Wednesday, causing the breaking of four other smaller pulleys, the saw arbor cutting off the main belt and otherwise shattering the works of the mill. The pieces of iron and wood were thrown in every direction among the workmen but fortunately no one was injured. The damage was $500 or more beside the loss of time by delay.

Freeman Moody, of Palmyra, met with an accident, last Sunday, whereby he lost one of his arms. While he and several other men were examining a Winchester repeating rifle, the gun was accidentally exploded by some unobserved cause. All the cartridges had been removed as they supposed from the magazine and they were handling the gun in a careless sort of a way, when Moody told them they better use it more carefully as there might be a cartridge that had not been observed. The words had hardly passed from his mouth when the gun went off and a forty-four caliber ball passed through the lower part of his right arm, mutilating it in such a horrid manner that the surgeon was obliged to amputate it above the elbow. At last accounts he was doing well.

Waldo.

An intelligent and progressive Belfast farmer says that one of our needs is a creamery. Equity Grange has had the matter under discussion and before long an attempt will be made to start one. The farmer said that a creamery will not cost above $1,600 and within a radius of four miles he counted up 600 cows, and farmers enough to take the stock at $25 per share. The advantages of a creamery are many and among them are uniformity of butter, and less work for the housewife, while the farmer is able to keep more stock. Those who depend on the market for a supply of butter know that much of it is not first-class. A creamery would remedy this, as the produce would be uniformly good. We hope our farmer friends will give this matter their serious attention, says the Journal.

York.

All the Biddeford and Saco horse railroad stock remaining unsold at the time the books were opened has been disposed of to local parties. The work of building the road will be entered upon right away.

SPRING MEDICINE.

The necessity of a spring medicine is almost universally admitted. And the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose becomes more and more widely known every year. That power to purify the blood, and those elements of strength and health which the system craves, and to which it is so susceptible at this season, are possessed by this peculiar medicine in a pre-eminent degree. Scrofula, pimples, boils, or any humor, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, or any diseases or affections caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Try the peculiar medicine.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY!
MARVELOUS IN ITS EFFECTS!

Mothers, save your children from the annoying and fatal effects of pin worms, by giving

DR. JOHN F. TRUE'S

Pin Worm Elixir.

A GREAT DISCOVERY!

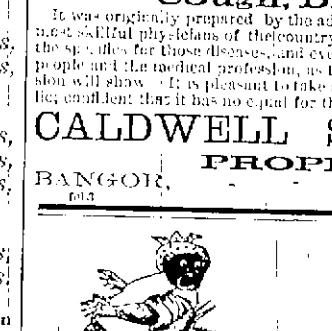

It is claimed to be the safest, most potent and most effectual remedy known for this child killing Disease. As a cathartic vermifuge it has no equal. It expels all kinds of worms, and in fact all living creatures that infest the bowels of suffering humanity, are triumphantly expelled by this truly wonderful remedy. Testimony in its favor comes in from all sections where it is known. It not only effectually removes from the system these troublesome and disagreeable worms, but children who have been weak and puny for years, are at once improved and restored to health by its use. Being a mild and gentle laxative, it is a corrective of the greatest value. It is purely vegetable and cannot be beat. It has also expelled several lizards. One eight inches in length, is spotted, belongs to the water species and looks like a veritable young alligator. This caused by worms and indigestion.

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the skin was raw. Body covered with scales like spots of mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuticura Remedies, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down, to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed, to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache, to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing, to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.
